Organizer: Co-Organizer:

3rd INTERNATIONAL
ISLAMIC ECONOMICS AND FINANCE
GRADUATE STUDENT SYMPOSIUM

Istanbul University Center for Islamic Economics and Finance is pleased to announce its 3rd International Graduate Student Symposium co-organized with the Hamad Bin Khalifa University which will be held on 08-09 October 2022. The languages of the symposium will be Turkish, Arabic, and English.

The International Islamic Economics and Finance Graduate Student Symposium seeks to bring M.A. and Ph.D. students together from a diverse range of perspectives and disciplines converging around the theme of Islamic economics and finance. We hope to provide an opportunity for interactive and interdisciplinary engagement aiming to make the research and ideas more qualified. In addition, one of the goals of the symposium is to raise interaction and integration among the Islamic economics and finance researchers in order to lay ground for the exchange of knowledge/experience and cooperation.

All graduate students are encouraged to apply, including M.A. and Ph.D. students at any stage of their studies. The symposium will focus on topics related to Islamic economics and finance. In this context, priorities will be given to papers dealing with the concepts of economics, finance, insurance, Islamic economic thought and history and Islamic economics. The originality of the articles to be sent to the symposium is considered important. For this reason, instead of descriptive texts, we expect that proposals of papers which have a specific focus, and which offer solutions are sent instead of descriptive texts.

By referring to their authors successful papers will also be published as a book. Abstracts should not exceed 350 words and the abstracts should be sent to isifam@istanbul.edu.tr with the contact details of the applicants and their academic CVs.
