Deadline for Article Submission
October 31, 2018

“Milletlerarası Hukuk ve Milletlerarası Özel Hukuk Bülteni” (MHB), which has been regularly published by the Research and Application Center of International Law and International Relations since 1981, will continue to be published under the name Public and Private International Law Bulletin (PPIL) beginning from 2018/2. Public and Private International Law Bulletin (PPIL) is indexed by TÜBİTAK-ULAKBİM and TR DİZİN.

The articles submitted to the Public and Private International Law Bulletin (PPIL) are evaluated using the double-blind peer-reviewed system. PPIL is published twice a year in June and December. Scientific studies to be published in the Public and Private International Law Bulletin (PPIL) must be submitted no later than 30 April for the June issue and no later than October 31 for the December issue. For the 2018/1 issue, the application must be submitted using the ScholarOne system via https://mc04.manuscriptcentral.com/PPIL.

In the Public and Private International Law Bulletin (PPIL), original articles in which are examined disciplinary or interdisciplinary studies that deal with the different dimensions of international law and private international law on justice and law, reviews of books published in these fields, and evaluations of relevant judicial decisions are included. In this way, our journal aims to help people who are active in these issues by closely following the international law, international relations and international affairs issues.

In the Public and Private International Law Bulletin (PPIL); primarily in the fields of international law and international private law, the following issues are given priority:
International Law:

• International Law (history, philosophy, theories, sources, persons, relations with national law, etc.)
• International Law Personality and Recognition (States, Governments)
• Sovereignty and the Authority of the State
• Transactions in International Law: Unilateral Transactions and Treaties
• International Peace and Security Law and the Prohibition of the Use of Force
• International Human Rights Law
• International Environmental Law
• Humanitarian Law (Law of Armed Conflicts)
• International Organizations Law
• International Maritime Law
• International Business Law
• State's Legal Responsibility
• International Criminal Law
• International Refugee Law
• Peaceful Resolution of International Disputes (Diplomatic, Judicial)
• International Air and Space Law
• International Transboundary Waters and Aquifer Law

Private International Law:

• General Principles of International Private Law
• Rules of Conflict of Laws
• International Family and Child Law
• Conventions on Private International Law or International Procedural Law
• International Procedure Law
• International Jurisdiction of State Courts
• International Legal Aid
• International Commercial Arbitration
• Alternative Dispute Resolutions
• Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Judgments or Foreign Awards
• Turkish Citizenship Law
• Foreigners’ Law (Social Rights of Foreigners, Property Rights, Right to Education, etc.)
• International Investment Law
• Immigration Law

Both branches are subject to interdisciplinary aspects of legal issues such as immigration and refugee law and investment law.
